Wireframe

This is the moth image and it's animated on a small loop.

Sticky Navbar and slightly transparent

Maybe a background image scrolling horzontally slowly on a loop.

Footer on each page contains clickable links to social media and other platforms with info about Glowing Moth or Myself
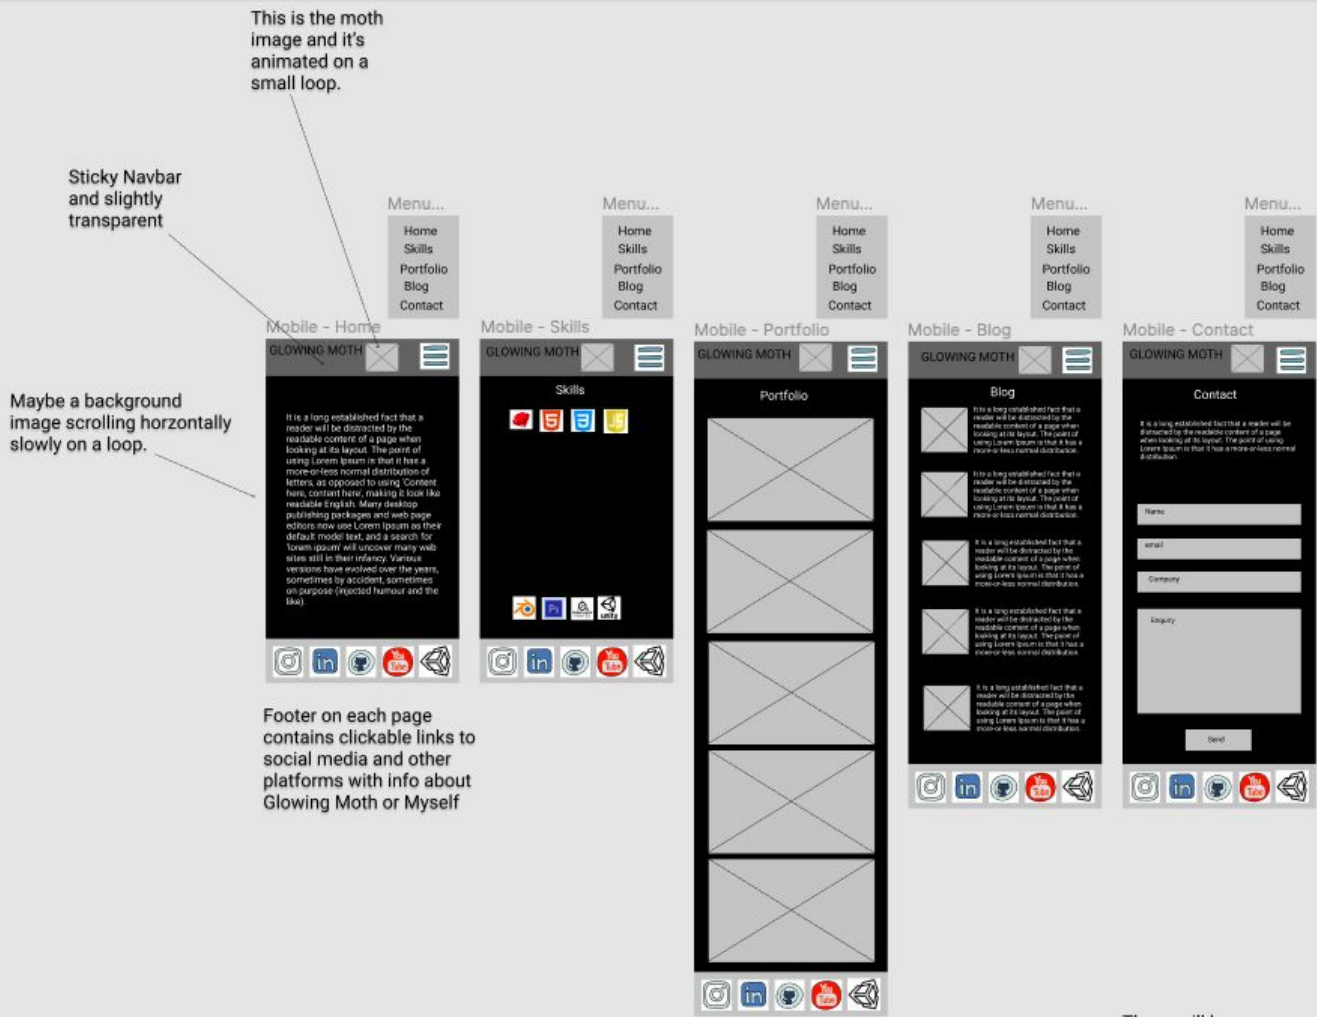

- I decided to go with something simple and easy for simple interaction on mobile

- Desktop version was to have more bells and whistles because there is more screen space and hover effects work better with a mouse cursor.

- Slight modification in the final result but most everything remained the same

Components

- Navigation is easy and consistent on all devices .
- The top navbar is sticky/fixed in place even whilst scrolling so the user can easily access another page without the need to scroll back up.
- Small animations that attract the user's eyes when they first open some pages.
- Links to external pages will open a new tab so the user still has access to the webpage they were on.
- The color scheme was chosen to give a…..no time to really work on it!
